

- Show respect for the other side.
- Unite with others who generally share your values. Be willing to compromise with coalition members to maintain a united front and communication strategy.
- Be proactive, not reactive. Play offense, not defense.
- Display controlled passion and dignity in making your case.
- Find stories where your frame connects with the audience.

The Ethics of Framing

In addition to providing guidelines for engaging in debate, the author makes some important distinctions between two unethical practices in framing issues—spin and propaganda. He defines “spin” as putting “an innocent frame on an embarrassing occurrence to make it sound normal or good.” Propaganda is “an attempt to get the public to adopt a frame that is not true and is known not to be true, for the purposes of gaining or maintaining political control.” Deceptive framing is often used to cover up a weakness in the advocate’s position. Some organizations, for example, call their new and reduced health insurance benefits package the “security plus” health plan. The phrase conjures up images of enhanced health protection, when in reality employees are paying more and receiving less. In Lakoff’s words, “Deceptive framing is not only reprehensible, but usually breeds cynicism and reduced credibility.” Authentic framing, on the other hand, conveys genuine values and beliefs in support of a course of action. Martin Luther King’s “I Have a Dream” speech, for example, envisioned a country where the “Black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics will join hands” to celebrate a new condition of freedom in our country. His authentic use of language changed our country forever.

This book is clearly a partisan treatise that may, at times, oversimplify and misrepresent conservative positions. Nonetheless, it provides valuable insight about the art and science of framing messages for political advantage. Lakoff teaches us that “frames trump facts” and that presenting genuinely felt values that link to people’s identity is a powerful means for building support.

In the world of public administration, extraordinary leaders need to assess changing external conditions, formulate missions and visions, reposition priorities, reorganize structures, build a winning culture, redeploy staff, build networks of coproducers, and create new human resource and information technology systems, among other actions. Given these responsibilities, authentic framing is an additional tool for building support to generate meaningful change. A change initiative can be framed in terms of enhancing citizen value, preserving democracy, building organization capacity, and giving meaning to one’s professional life. A skillfully framed message can tap into an employee’s identity as steward of the public interest, who works with a sense of pride to create meaningful results. George Lakoff’s book, Don’t Think of an Elephant, is a reasonably good choice if your goal is to learn how to strategically express values that attract a following and unite people in pursuit of worthy goals.

Author Index

	Issue/Page
Bailey, Margo	1/8
Baker, David L.	4/31
Bayat, M.S.	2/15
Blake, Richard	2/43
Bunker, Kerry A.	4/9
Caulkins, Jonathan P.	1/22
Chakrabarti, Oisika	2/56
Cicotte, Barbara L.	1/16
de Barbieri, Mary Ann	1/13
Dzuray, Emil J.	4/22
Douglas, Judy	2/54
Edwards, Amy	3/61
Ferreira, I.W.	2/15
Fillichio Carl	2/51
Gill, Tony	3/26
Ginn, Marshall H.	1/11
Goldstein, Rachel	3/49
Grimaldi	1/54, 2/61, 3/64, 4/62
Helgason, Kristinn	4/42
Hyde, A.C.	1/3, 1/57, 1/61, 1/62
Jackson, Rick	1/40
Klareskov, Vilhelm	4/42
Kenny, Brooks B.	1/19
Kissane, Jonathan M.	2/4
Kluver, Jodie	4/16
Laubach, Paulette	2/43
Leuenberger, Deniz Z.	1/60, 4/16
Long-Green, Alethea	1/28
Mameli, Peter A.	2/27
Master, Warren	1/2, 2/3, 3/1, 4/1
McGinnis, Patricia	4/60
Mendis, Patrick	3/3
Miller, GERALYN M.	2/47
Morrison, Erica L.	1/22
Mortlock, Mick	3/9
Naff, Katherine C.	1/59
Nathanson, Philip	3/42
Pettibone, Craig	1/51
Phillips, Dale	2/32
Pinterić, Uroš	3/38, 4/27
Pizzella, Patrick	2/37
Plant, Jeremy	3/13
Raga, Kishore	2/22
Rasmussen, Jill C.	1/19
Romito, Joe	3/32
Runde, Dan	4/38
Sanow, Susan	1/7
Saxton, Gregory D.	1/34
Shippett, Myra Howze	1/26
Shipman, Stephanie	3/53
Spahr, Adrienne	3/57, 4/14
Stier, Max	4/55
Stone, Steve J.	4/22
Taylor, Derek	2/22
Trahant, Bill	4/49
Vivadelli, John H.	3/20
Wakefield, Michael	4/9
Walker, David	1/29, 2/10
Weeks, Dale	4/3
Weidemann, Timothy	1/22
Yearout, Steve	4/49
Yi, Hyong	1/62
Zauderer, Donald G.	1/44, 4/65

Title Index	Issue/Page
Bookshelf		Changing Practices—Attracting Graduates to Government	4/14
It's the people...stupid	1/60	When the Halo Wears Off	4/42
Strategic Thinking for High-Performance Management	1/61	Making Reward for Performance a Reality	4/49
The Art of Framing for Political Advantage	4/65	Image of Public Service
Culture of Bureaucracy		ASPA's National Capital Area Chapter Holds Annual Awards Ceremony	1/26
Leading with Character	1/44	2005 FEIA Executive Forum a Success!	1/51
Hurricanes and Learning		Getting Ahead of the Curve: Baltimore and CitiStat	2/51
Organization Obsolescence	3/9	Getting the Most from the Contributions of Government Leaders	2/54
Enterprise-Wide Performance and Business Process Management	4/3	In Seattle, When It Rains, It Drains—Naturally	3/61
Changing Culture—Generational Collision and Creativity	4/16	Changing Practices—Attracting Graduates to Government	4/14
When the Halo Wears Off	4/42	Achieving Environmental Sustainability in Government Operations	4/22
Financial Management		When the Halo Wears Off	4/42
Spreadsheet Errors: Are They Undermining Decision Making in Your Organization?	1/22	Stories of Service to Inspire Us All—The "Sammies"	4/55
Our Nation's Financial Condition and Fiscal Outlook	1/29	After Katrina, Americans Hit the Snooze Button	4/60
Ethics and Integrity in Government: Putting the Needs of Our Nation First	2/10	Information Technology Management
Curbing Corruption in the Republic of South Africa	2/15	Strategic Applications of Technology: County-Level Case Study in the State of Georgia	2/32
Impact of Accountability and Ethics on Public Service Delivery: A South African Perspective	2/22	GovBenefits.gov: A Valuable E-Government Tool for Citizens	2/37
Managing for Financial Success in Federal Agencies	3/32	Getting Ahead of the Curve: Baltimore and CitiStat	2/51
Program Evaluation: Improving Performance and Accountability	3/53	Changing Governance, Improving Lives	2/56
Enterprise-Wide Performance and Business Process Management	4/3	E-Governance in Slovenia: Part I	3/38
Strategies for Local Government Fiscal Stability	4/31	E-Governance in Slovenia: Part II	4/27
Homeland Security		Innovation
Protection Management: An Integrated Approach to Homeland Security Education	2/27	Getting Ahead of the Curve: Baltimore and CitiStat	2/51
Hurricanes and Learning		In Seattle, When It Rains, It Drains—Naturally	3/61
Organization Obsolescence	3/9	Achieving Environmental Sustainability in Government Operations	4/22
Competing Models for Enhancing Railroad Security	3/13	When the Halo Wears Off	4/42
Network of Space and Continuity of Operations	3/20	Nonprofit Management
Continuity Planning in a Post-Katrina World	3/26	Synergy in the Nonprofit Sector	1/7
The Intelligence Skills Gap: Building the Right Workforce to Meet Our Nation's Security Needs	3/49	Think "Results," Not "Evaluation"	1/8
In Seattle, When It Rains, It Drains—Naturally	3/61	Prospecting for Gold: Finding Financial Resources for Your Organization	1/11
After Katrina, Americans Hit the Snooze Button	4/60	Ready, Set, Fundraise! Five Steps to Success in Fundraising from the Private Sector	1/13
Human Resources Management		Developing an Effective Fundraising Board	1/16
2004 Management Fad of the Year: Pay for Performance	1/3	Best Practices in Communications: Ten Tips for Improving Communications and Setting the Stage for Your Success	1/19
MAX-HR: When More May Mean Less Evaluating Certified Public Manager Training	2/43	The Participatory Revolution in Nonprofit Management	1/34
Foster Better Public Management through Education: A Call for Institutional Reconsideration of the Tenure Criteria	2/47	Partnerships and Networks
Putting "Strategic" into Human Capital Management	3/42	A Mission with Mercy: A Unique U.S. Partnership for Aiding Tsunami Victims	2/4
The Intelligence Skills Gap: Building the Right Workforce to Meet Our Nation's Security Needs	3/49	In Seattle, When It Rains, It Drains—Naturally	3/61
Growing Tomorrow's Government Leaders	3/57	Making a World of Difference through Development Alliances	4/38
		When the Halo Wears Off	4/42
		Performance Management
		The End of Performance?	1/57
		Program Evaluation: Improving Performance and Accountability	3/53
		Enterprise-Wide Performance and Business Process Management	4/3
		Achieving Environmental Sustainability in Government Operations	4/22
		Making Reward for Performance a Reality	4/49
		Policy Issues
		And in Closing...A "Sideways" Interview	1/62
		Achieving Environmental Sustainability in Government Operations	4/22
		Satire: The Uncivil Servant
		Social Insecurity	1/54
		All the Presidents	2/61
		Camping Out	3/64
		2005 Was Not a Very Good Year	4/62
		State and Municipal Management
		Strategic Applications of Technology: County-Level Case Study in the State of Georgia	2/32
		Getting Ahead of the Curve: Baltimore and CitiStat	2/51
		In Seattle, When It Rains, It Drains—Naturally	3/61
		Strategies for Local Government Fiscal Stability	4/31
		Transformation/Change Management
		Where Should We Go Next on Public Service Transformation, and How Should We Get There?	1/28
		Achieving Strategic Change in Government	1/40
		Curbing Corruption in the Republic of South Africa	2/15
		Impact of Accountability and Ethics on Public Service Delivery: A South African Perspective	2/22
		Changing Governance, Improving Lives	2/56
		Americanization of Globalization	3/3
		E-Governance in Slovenia: Part I	3/38
		Enterprise-Wide Performance and Business Process Management	4/3
		Changing Workforce—Leading Effectively When Change is the Norm	4/9
		Changing Practices—Attracting Graduates to Government	4/14
		Changing Culture—Generational Collision and Creativity	4/16
		When the Halo Wears Off	4/42
		Young Professionals
		The Intelligence Skills Gap: Building the Right Workforce to Meet Our Nation's Security Needs	3/49
		Growing Tomorrow's Government Leaders	3/57
		Changing Practices—Attracting Graduates to Government	4/14
		Changing Culture—Generational Collision and Creativity	4/16

